

Family Law Internship Scholarship Application

We believe that conflict resolution is one of the ingredients to healthy families and communities and it is important to us to share these teachings. We also recognize that cost and time commitment are often barriers to potential participants.

Clackamas County Resolution Services is offering a limited number of full scholarship seats for this internship.

We will prioritize providing scholarships to potential participants who have lived experience within a marginalized community, are bilingual.

We are aware that there may be other barriers in place beyond financial ones; and not everyone feels comfortable advocating for scholarships. You, the community members are important to us, we are happy to discuss concerns with you and attempt flexibility. We do ask, however, if you are requesting one of these limited scholarship seats that you are committed to completing the full 8-month internship.
