BACKGROUND:

The Housing Authority of Clackamas County (HACC), a Division of the Health, Housing and Human Services Department of Clackamas County is requesting the adoption of Resolution #1968 and for authorization to submit the HACC Moving to Work (MTW) Plan and Application for the Asset Building Cohort to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Acquiring MTW status allows the Housing Authority to use their U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funding more flexibly and better assist households gaining self-sufficiency and a chance at home ownership.

In April 2022, HUD began seeking applications for the Asset Building Cohort of the MTW Expansion, which is focused on developing new ways to assist families wanting to improve their credit and savings to become more self-sufficient.

MTW status would allow HACC the flexibility to administer their public housing and Housing Choice Voucher programs with policies that can better address local needs. HACC could deploy new strategies and uses for their existing HUD funds to help families they serve have increased opportunities to improve their credit scores, build savings/escrow balances and work towards graduation and homeownership as well as reduce administrative burden in administering programs. HACC will be able to shift resources from paper pushing and verifying activities back toward client self-sufficiency activities.

HACC's plan focuses on a uniquely designed program that combines both a savings account component and a credit reporting component for participating households.

1. Savings Account Component: HACC will work with households currently served in our programs who are interested in homeownership to establish a savings account and learn about homeownership. As part of this program, HACC will contribute to each savings account monthly, up to 25% of the household's current rent.
2. Credit Reporting Component: HACC will expand its existing and successful credit reporting program through outreach and partnerships with property owners and others throughout the community. This program will help renters establish credit by reporting rent and utility payments to the credit bureau.

This Asset Building Cohort is in alignment with HACC's annual plan goals and will test initiatives and activities that encourage self-sufficiency in perfect timing with our disposition of public housing scattered sites.

The HACC MTW Plan and Application has been posted for public review since June 13, 2022, as required and comments from the Public Hearing held on July 13, 2022 have been added. Additional required and supporting documents have been added to the appendixes. Further information, application status, program details, and ongoing information on the MTW program can be found at the Housing Authority Website for Moving to Work at <https://www.clackamas.us/housingauthority/moving-to-work>.

RECOMMENDATION:

Staff respectfully recommends the Board adopt Resolution #1968 and authorize the Housing Authority to submit the MTW Plan and application to HUD on July 28, 2022. Staff also recommends the board approve Commissioner Tootie Smith, Chair to sign all documents for submission on behalf of the Housing Authority and delegate the Executive Director of the Housing Authority of Clackamas County to sign all program implementation documents, if awarded MTW status.

a) MTW PLAN

(1) VISION FOR PHA'S LOCAL MTW PROGRAM

The three Statutory Objectives of the Moving to Work (MTW) program are to: 1) reduce cost and increase cost-effectiveness, 2) increase self-sufficiency, and 3) increase housing choice. Coupled with the goals of the asset building cohort, these objectives closely mirror the Housing Authority of Clackamas County (HACC)'s goals, as stated in the FY2022 Annual Plan:

- Agency Goal 1: Develop new housing units with long-term affordability for a broad range of low-income households with an emphasis on dispersal of affordable housing (increase housing choice)
- Agency Goal 2: Improve access and housing choice for everyone with a focus on protected classes and single-parent households (increase housing choice)
- Agency Goal 3: Enforce fair housing laws and increase public understanding of fair housing laws (increase housing choice)
- Agency Goal 4: Improve the quality of housing authority assisted housing and customer service (reduce cost and increase cost-effectiveness)
- Agency Goal 5: Improve community quality of life and economic vitality (increase self-sufficiency)
- Agency Goal 6: Promote self-sufficiency and asset development of families and individuals (increase self-sufficiency)

As part of its Annual Planning process, HACC developed the following Fair Housing goals, all of which align with the County's goals listed above

- Fair Housing Goal 1: Increase and preserve affordable, accessible housing options throughout Clackamas County
- Fair Housing Goal 2: Expand fair housing outreach, education, and enforcement
- Fair Housing Goal 3: Review internal policies and practices with a trauma-informed, accessibility, and racial equity lens to increase fair housing for all protected classes

HACC partnered with the County's Community Development Division to write a five-year Assessment of Fair Housing Report, which includes extensive outreach and detailed implementation strategies for the goals listed above. A draft of this plan is available on HACC's website.

In addition to the traditional Housing Choice Voucher and Public Housing programs, HACC administers a number of other affordable housing programs using state and local funds. These programs include homeless programs, emergency shelters, housing navigation and placement services, supportive housing case management, credit building services for Public Housing residents, and non-HUD rental assistance programs. HACC believes that the MTW program will give the agency the flexibility it needs to manage all its programs more efficiently and effectively. In addition, MTW will give HACC the ability to define agency strategies, develop programs to address local community needs, and design affordable housing development funding approaches without the confines of traditional funding and regulatory silos.

HACC's current funding streams are diverse and include $43 million of non-HUD grants, $116 million in bonds, and $24 million in annual HUD funding for the County's Housing Choice Voucher and Public Housing programs. These funds have been and will continue to be leveraged with other private resources and tax credit equity. This leveraging will enable HACC to develop bond-financed affordable housing in the County, preserve affordable housing through acquisition, reposition its Public Housing portfolio, fund necessary redevelopment projects throughout the County, and provide resident services, supportive housing services, and other robust supportive services to ensure resident stability and positive outcomes. Administering these funds and related programs has resulted in a staff well-versed in the needs of the community and the experience needed to design programs to meet those needs. The Resident Services team is made up of a group of individuals committed to the residents, passionate about the work, with diverse expertise and lived experience, equipped to serve residents from diverse backgrounds. The team is made up of resident service specialists, housing case managers, peer support specialists, AmeriCorp members, a Portland State University intern, an FSS coordinator, and a ROSS coordinator.

(2) PLAN FOR FUTURE COMMUNITY/RESIDENT ENGAGEMENT

HACC believes that resident and community engagement is imperative to successful program implementation and is committed to engaging the community, soliciting feedback, and incorporating the views of its residents, applicants, and the community at large throughout its MTW planning and implementation activities. Current engagement efforts include meeting bi-annually with the agency's Resident Advisory Board, sending HACC's quarterly All Tenant Newsletter, sending the monthly Supportive Housing Services Newsletter, and the Annual Plan and public hearing process. In addition, HACC will solicit public feedback on the design of its housing and services programs, especially those requiring MTW waivers.

HACC will continue resident engagement and outreach as it works through the repositioning of its Public Housing portfolio. For Hillside Park, this includes resident meetings and quarterly newsletters to provide updates on the repositioning and redevelopment process.

(3) PHA OPERATING AND INVENTORY INFORMATION

HACC currently has 445 Public Housing units and 2,101 Housing Choice Vouchers, of which 70 are RAD and 122 are project-based. The housing authority also operates 509 non-Federal bond-funded affordable housing units and 67 Local Project Fund affordable housing units. Most of the affordable housing units were acquired through the County's Affordable Housing Preservation Program in order to preserve affordability. Thirty-one (31%) percent of HACC's population is elderly and 56% is disabled. The average annual household income is $19,584 for Public Housing and $15,975 for the Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program. For households with earned income, which includes wages and business income, average household income is $27,977. In addition, 93% of the households served are Extremely Low Income (ELI), 8% are Hispanic, 8% are African American, and 89% are white (stats for Head of Households). HACC does not anticipate any major shifts in the population it serves due to MTW program changes; however, the agency does anticipate potential demographic changes due to a more diverse applicants following a wait list opening in 2020, and strong equity focus of the Metro-funded Supportive Housing Services (SHS) program.

HACC anticipates the following adjustments to its housing inventory in the near future:

Type	Impact	Comments
Mix	+ 812 bond-financed units	$116M in regional affordable housing bond funds will provide additional units through acquisition, development, or other means
Acquisition & grand opening of Tukwila Springs	+ 48 PBV units	Permanent Supportive Housing targeted toward extremely low-income households with a history of homelessness
Section 18 Disposition and Redevelopment of Hillside Park	Neutral 100 replacement units + Up to 400 new affordable housing units	HACC will use Section 18 paired with other funding sources to convert Hillside Park from 100 units of PH into up to 500 units of affordable housing, including at least 100 PBV supported units
RAD and/or Section 18 Disposition	Neutral 345 units	HACC will use a combination of RAD and Section 18 demo/disposition to convert its Public Housing portfolio to RAD and PBV

Note the following about HACC’s current operating environment and the challenges faced:

- HACC spends nearly 100% of its voucher allocation annually but is only able to utilize roughly 93% of its voucher allocation due to underfunding of the Housing Choice Voucher program. HACC hopes that it can increase the number of households it serves by applying MTW flexibilities.

- HACC’s waitlist has approximately 992 households on it, with an average wait time of four (4) years. Using MTW flexibility, HACC hopes to design programs focused on graduating more work able households off program in order to make room for the households who have been waiting with no assistance.
- Currently, HACC’s focus has been to help the most vulnerable and homeless households, who are often extremely low income or zero income families. Given the recent influx of local funding dollars focused on ending homelessness and helping the most disadvantaged, HACC sees a potential to shift its federal sources of funding to creating a preference for work ready families or working families that are in low wage jobs that make it impossible to maintain quality housing. This focus could decrease the average Housing Assistance Payment (HAP) expenditure as households contribute more towards rent. This population would also benefit from credit and asset building strategies with a goal of eventual homeownership.
- The County has an extremely low inventory of studio and one-bedroom units given its urban and rural mix. This often leads to many single member households having to rent larger 2-bedroom units. HACC sees an extreme need to build more affordable housing to meet the needs of the County. MTW would allow HACC to consider a PBV Cap and development proceeds to meet the strategic goal of increasing affordable housing inventory in all parts of the County and offering more SRO, studio and one-bedroom options. Additionally, if the County pays its staff a living wage, HACC’s Administrative Fee funding will not cover the personnel costs of operating HACC’s programs.

(4) PLAN FOR LOCAL MTW PROGRAM

HACC believes that becoming MTW gives the agency the opportunity to fundamentally change its operations. Using MTW flexibility, HACC will align the needs of the community and residents with the three (3) MTW statutory objectives in ways that help transform operations, encourage self-sufficiency, and better utilize the funding it receives.

Cost Effectiveness: by implementing triennial reviews and making other changes to how HACC administers the HCV and PH programs, HACC will be able to redirect the staff time and resources toward activities that have a higher value for the participant and/or the community. Additional activities related to cost-effectiveness that HACC may consider include adopting a streamlined process for performing rent reasonableness and eliminating the selection process for project-based vouchers.

Self-Sufficiency: The MTW program will give HACC the ability to redesign its FSS program in order to increase capacity and program effectiveness. In addition, as part of the asset building cohort, HACC will focus on activities that help households build equity and learn strategies to save and build credit.

Housing Choice: there are several MTW waivers related to housing choice that HACC may consider, including the ability to offer incentives to landlords with units in higher opportunity areas (Waiver 4) and the ability to develop non-Public Housing using MTW funds (Waiver 17). HACC has already begun to develop landlord incentive programs and is well-positioned to explore the potential expansion of these programs using MTW flexibility. In addition, the County is project to receive around $42 million dollars in local funds every year for the next ten years to decrease homelessness. This local taxpayer funded program will be a tool that the housing authority will look to combine with MTW flexibilities and partnerships to increase the overall number of affordable housing units in the community.

(5) PROPOSED USE OF MTW FUNDS

As part of this MTW application package, HACC formally requests authorization to use Public Housing and Housing Choice Voucher HAP and Admin funds flexibly. HACC plans to use funds flexibly across the Section 8 and Section 9 programs. This flexibility will help ensure the overall viability of the programs that HACC manages by providing additional subsidy for historically underfunded programs. While no concrete plans currently exist to do so, HACC may use its MTW funds to purchase, rehabilitate, or develop affordable housing. Some specific waivers related to funding flexibility that HACC may utilize, include:

- Landlord incentives (Waivers 4a – 4c)
- Increase the PBV cap (Waivers 9a – 9b)
- Limit portability for PBV units (Waiver 9h)
- Use HUD funding to develop affordable housing (Waiver 17c)

(6) EVIDENCE OF SIGNIFICANT PARTNERSHIPS

HACC believes strongly in the importance of developing effective partnerships throughout the County and understands the correlation between housing, services, education, and health. Each year, HACC continues to grow its list of partnerships and strengthen existing partnerships by increasing funding and resources and incorporating partner services into new programs that serve low-income households in the County.

One of the main areas where HACC is actively working to increase partnership involvement is in the implementation of the Metro Region's Supportive Housing Services (SHS) program. If HACC's MTW application is successful, one of the goals will be to use MTW flexibilities to leverage these partnerships across programs and find common ground between HACC's services and programs, increasing administrative efficiency and program effectiveness. Listed below are some of the activities currently underway that will lead to partnership expansion within the SHS program:

- Landlord Partnership Agreements: HACC is in the process of developing a standard partnership agreement that will be used to secure one or more units within a property for SHS households. The agreement will include landlord leasing incentives and other favorable terms in exchange for reserving units for households coming out of homelessness.

- Project Master Leasing: HACC intends to develop a master leasing agreement that will be used to secure a block of units within a property for SHS households coming out of homelessness. This is different than the partnership agreement in that HACC will be the lease holder on each of the units and will sublease the units to households on the SHS program.
- Supportive Services: In March 2022, HACC issued six (6) RFP's for supportive housing services. Contracts totaling approximately $6.2 million are currently being drafted with the selected providers. Once on board, the service providers will provide housing stability services to Clackamas County residents.
- Data Collection and Reporting: As part of its participation in the SHS program, HACC has partnered with Washington and Multnomah Counties to develop metrics and reporting systems that will be used to measure program outcomes across the region.

HACC plans to use the MTW program to further increase its ability to partner and leverage funds for other services, rental assistance, and development. The plan will be to think creatively as a team about how to use MTW flexibility to increase the number of affordable housing units and enter into agreements with service providers who will help the County's residents improve their opportunities in education, increasing their earnings and meeting goals for their families. As mentioned earlier, the housing authority is already partnering with others in the community to provide services to the households it serves and is working to increase the pool of providers available, build relationships between providers and landlords, and explore ways to incentivize landlord participation. Receiving the MTW status would further allow the housing authority to leverage these types of opportunities.

Below are some examples of partnerships that HACC will continue to leverage:

- HACC partners with Esusu (<https://esusurent.com/>) to provide credit reporting services for Public Housing residents, whose rent payments are not traditionally reported to the credit bureau.

- The Oregon Counties of Clackamas, Multnomah, and Washington are united through the Tri-County Metro Regional Council, and the respective housing authorities in each County collaborate on a number of shared programs and resources, such as the Supportive Housing Services measure (Metro SHS).
- HACC partners with affordable housing providers by providing funds for rehabilitation and development and project-based vouchers for the preservation of affordable housing.
- HACC partners with the Veterans Administration in administering its VA Supporting Housing Vouchers, funded by HUD.
- HACC hosts free Fair Housing and Landlord Tenant Law trainings to landlords throughout the County.
- HACC partners with the Fair Housing Council of Oregon to help distribute Fair Housing information throughout the community.
- HACC partners with the Housing Rights and Resources Center (HRCC), who works with tenants and landlords to protect the housing rights of the community and educate the community on housing issues.
- HACC partners with Youth Service Providers who provides outdoor community building services to school-aged youth.
- HACC has established partnerships with a number of food distribution partners so that they are ready to provide food to HACC families in the case of an emergency or disaster.
- The Oregon Food Bank operates a food bank out of a space in one of HACC's buildings.
- HACC partners with the US Department of Human Services to connect youth graduating out of Foster Care to permanent housing through the Foster Youth to Independence (FYI) Program.
- HACC partners with Healthshare of Oregon, Clackamas County Behavioral Health, Mental Health Association of Oregon (MHAOO) and the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) Oregon to house the most vulnerable facing discharge into homelessness through our Mainstream Voucher Program.
- HACC partners with local nonprofits such as DevNW, NW Housing Services, NW Housing Alternatives, Catholic Charities and others to offer preference placement for those referrals coming out of homelessness that will receive 2 years of case management.

b) ASSET BUILDING INITIATIVES INFORMATION

(1) ASSESSMENT OF EXISTING ASSET BUILDING PROGRAMS

The Housing Authority of Clackamas County (HACC) currently operates five (5) separate asset building programs:

- i) The traditional HUD Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) program, offered to both Public Housing and Housing Choice Voucher program participants.
- ii) Rent Reporting for Credit building program, which offers credit coaching, credit workshops, and credit reporting for Public Housing rent payments through a third-party credit-reporting agency.
- iii) The traditional HUD Resident Opportunities and Self-Sufficiency (ROSS) Grant Program, offered to Public Housing participants.
- iv) Individual Development Accounts (IDA), match savings account, providing resident the opportunity to build financial skills while they save towards a defined goal. For every dollar they save, the initiative matches three dollars.
- v) Security deposit assistance program operated by HACC provides loans to Housing Choice Voucher participants up to 50% of their monthly income to use as a security deposit. The loan and the payments made toward the loan are reported to the credit bureau, helping participants establish credit.
- vi) Partnerships that support HACC's asset building programs will continue to be strengthened, including but not limited to, workforce programs, financial education, and credit counseling.

The FSS program currently serves 20 Public Housing residents (5% of program total) and 69 Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) participants (4% of program total). While FSS program participation is relatively low, HACC has found that participants have significantly higher incomes than households not participating. Public Housing FSS participants' average incomes are 32% higher than non-FSS households; likewise in the HCV program, average incomes for FSS participants are 28% higher than non-FSS households.

In 2018, HACC partnered with the Credit Builders Alliance in Washington, DC to design a credit building program for HACC's Public Housing residents. Through this program, HACC partnered with financial capability providers to provide credit coaching and credit workshops for its residents and with Esusu (www.esusurent.com), who reports Public Housing rental payments to all three credit bureaus. While the program has seen a decline in participation over the last two (2) years due to the COVID-19 pandemic, participating households have seen an average credit score increase of 48 points. While 88% of participants saw an improvement in their credit scores, thirty-five participants were able to establish a credit score. The current average credit score is 679, up 48 points from when we initially started the credit building program in February 2019.

HACC will continue to strengthen the programs and partnership in place to help residents become more self-sufficient. For workforce services, HACC partners with Clackamas Workforce Partnership (CWP) and the Employment Investment Program run by Children, Family and Community Connections (with roughly half the caseload of a HACC Employment Specialist serving residents in HACC programs). To support HACC's financial education and homeownership efforts, the agency partners with Catholic Charities, Save$First, DevNW, Habitat for Humanity and Proud Ground. Being able to connect residents to these workforce and financial services are key to helping residents engaged in HACC's asset building programs.

(2) CHOICE OF ASSET BUILDING INITIATIVES OPTION

If HACC's MTW application is successful, it plans to implement an asset building program under option three (3) of PIH Notice 2022-11, the PHA-Designed Asset Building Option. This option will give HACC the ability to expand its current credit building program and add in a downpayment assistance component that will provide residents in its Public Housing portfolio the potential to purchase the Scattered Site units that will be sold through its Section 18 Disposition application.

(3) INFORMATION SPECIFIC TO ASSET BUILDING INITIATIVES OPTION CHOSEN BY PHA

Savings Account Component:

The primary goal of the Savings Account Component of the HACC’s proposed asset building initiative is to increase the number of households who are “banked” and to partner with local financial institutions willing to provide savings accounts to low-income families, without the restrictions that often lead to low-income households remaining unbanked. Low-income households without bank accounts pay high fees to cash their paychecks or to obtain money orders, which are often required for rent and utility payments when a household does not have access to a bank account. Evidence suggests that when a low-income household is banked, they establish credit, their credit scores increase, their likelihood of default is reduced, and they have lower amounts of delinquent debt (Urban Institute: Effective Programs and Policies for Promoting Economic Well-Being).

In 2021, HACC started the environmental review process required to dispose of its 145 scattered sites. HACC’s scattered site portfolio consists of 2-, 3-, and 4-bedroom units in single-family homes, duplexes, triplexes, and 4-plexes throughout the County. These units can be up to thirty-five (35) miles apart from each other and each unit costs an average of $2,000 more to operate than other units in the Public Housing portfolio. HACC is looking at the potential to sell the single-family scattered sites as affordable homes to the current occupants. This would be done by giving the current occupants the first right to buy and working with a homeownership partners, such as Let’s Invest for Tomorrow (LIFT). The timeline of the disposition and relocation of the scattered site portfolio will work out well with the 24-month reporting period for the demonstration.

HACC believes that homeownership may be a viable option for some of the households living in the scattered site homes and families living in HACC's other Public Housing properties, as the incomes of these households is higher than in HACC's other Public Housing projects, giving them more opportunity for successful homeownership. The average income for HACC's Public Housing residents is $19,729, while the average income for those living in scattered sites is $26,681. In fact, 24% of these households have incomes over $40,000, 9 households have incomes over 80% AMI, 14 households have incomes between 50% and 80% AMI, and there are currently twenty-five households with annual incomes between $50,000 and $135,000.

HACC's vision for the savings account component of the MTW asset-building program is to offer down payment assistance to households residing in one of the County's scattered site homes. Any household will be able to apply for the program and HACC will develop selection criteria that accounts for the household's aptitude for homeownership. HACC will partner with one or more financial institutions in the County willing to provide savings accounts free of many of the restrictive characteristics of accounts typically offered to lower-income families, such as high annual fees, high penalties, and no over-draft protection. Each household will be required to establish an account and HACC will deposit funds into their account equal to a percentage of their current Public Housing rent payment each month for twenty-four (24) months. The exact percentage will be decided later, but will likely be between 15% and 25%. Many of the details of the program still need to be worked out, but the preliminary analysis shows that even the households with higher incomes rarely report having assets, such as checking or savings accounts. In fact, only four (4) of the 25 households with incomes over $50,000 reported having any assets at all.

Depending on the decision on the percentage of rent to contribute, HACC estimates that this program will cost between $130,000 and $210,000 over two (2) years. These funds will come from HACC's HCV Housing Assistance Payment reserves.

HACC will measure the success of the program using the following factors:

- Difference in credit score between initial baseline and current actual;
- Difference in delinquent debt between initial baseline and current actual;
- Percent of program participants who were successful in a home purchase.

Expanded Credit Reporting Program:

HACC operates the Rent Reporting for Credit Building program. The goal of this program is to educate program participants on the importance of establishing credit and helping them establish credit by regularly reporting rent payments to the credit bureaus. This program closely mirrors Option 2 in PIH Notice 2022-11 and has the following attributes:

- HACC partners with financial capability providers to provide credit coaching and workshops to HACC Public Housing residents;
- HACC has a contract with Esusu, a company that collects rent payment data from property owners and submits the data to the credit bureau, enabling the households to gain credit.

HACC pays for the services provided by Esusu and can only report payments made to HACC, which is why the program is only offered to Public Housing residents. However, HACC proposes using MTW flexibility to expand these services beyond Public Housing by offering incentives and reimbursements to landlords for reporting rent payments to Esusu or a comparable credit reporting company. In addition, HACC proposes expanding its credit counseling services to include Housing Choice Voucher participants and residents in the affordable housing portfolio interested in financial literacy and building credit. HACC anticipates offering the program to all participants initially but may need to randomly select applicants if the level of interest makes it cost-prohibitive. Many of the details of this program still need to be worked out among HACC's staff and Board.

HACC estimates that 5% of households living in one of its properties will choose to participate in the program. Due to the landlord's required involvement in the HCV program, HACC estimates around 3% of HCV households will choose to participate. This equates to about 80 households, which will cost the agency $8,000 over the two-year reporting period.

HACC will measure success of the program using the following factors:

- Difference in credit score between initial baseline and current actual
- Correlation between participation in credit counseling services and credit score increase
- Increased enrollment over time
- Regular long-term participation in the program
- Number of credit-invisible households who now have a credit score
- Other factors to be defined

Record of comments from Public Hearing

A public hearing was held on July 13, 2022, at 10am. A summary of the comments is below.

Toni Karter, Interim Director of the Housing Authority of Clackamas County and Rodney Cook, Director of the Department of Health, Housing and Human Services presented information regarding the MTW plan and application. Commissioners then provided the following questions/comments (paraphrased) and responses by presenters. (C: comment, Q: Question, R: Response). All commissioners were in attendance. A video of the Public Hearing is available at: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=L3w2oTCUjf8>.

Commissioner Martha Schrader: C: Great program, fits in with work at the national level moving towards homeownership away from poverty – this seems to focus primarily on the savings piece. Q: Is there any nexus between this and the workforce system regarding employment? R: HACC does have a FSS program that has grown and is continuing to grow. Participants in this program can also enroll in FSS and the more it grows the more grant money is available. Q: What is FSS? R: Family Sufficiency program which works on the workforce side. That is the employment side. They work together can grow together. Q: Is there a direct nexus to workforce? R: Yes, it is the FSS program through IGA/Contract. Q: So that is for obtaining employment, education etc.? R: Yes. C: Sound like a great program and I would suspect that we are supporting this movement through the prosperity initiative at a national level, will double check that. Sounds great.

Commissioner Sonya Fischer: C: Thank you I appreciate this opportunity. I have two questions so I will just ask them both and then you can just answer. Q: My first is if you could just give an overview, since this program was started in 1996, why are we applying now? Q: Expand on the savings component. I heard that we would put 25% of value of the resident's rental contribution we would put that into the savings account. What can the individual put into the account? Are there ceilings of how much savings they can have and still qualify for public assistance? How practically that savings is translated into housing purchases? R: On why now. HACC did not qualify for original 39, focused on large Housing Authorities, wanting to do a study using HA that were about the same. Next were focused on small rural HA, next was a middle sized (like HACC) but was a tiered rent study that did not seem to fit our county and we knew this cohort was coming which is a better fit for where we were going with our strategic direction. C: So, to summarize, it hasn't been a good fit until now for us to apply. R: Funding – like our FSS escrow account, it is an account we keep so it does not count against them as income, they do not have access unless they meet their goals and that they are spending it on their goals. For example, if they had a goal of buying a computer and go to school then it could be used to pay for a computer and tuition but not groceries or other things. It is not considered disposable income to them, so we don't count it toward eligibility. C: So, there is no cap. Q: Can they contribute their own resources? R: Yes. Q: What about family members, can they contribute? R: Yes, we will have three options – Escrow account, savings account, and IDA (Individual development accounts). Will encourage them to sign up for all three to build up the most savings. This is also habit forming. Teaching them to have a savings which is another win of this program.

Commissioner Mark Shull – C: That answered a couple of my questions. Q: When we look at ending the cycle of poverty, you mentioned that you control the account, at what time would the potential homeowner receive that money and what type of criteria would they need to meet at that time to be ready to maintain a home, mortgage, hold a job, etc. What the criteria for success where the money is transferred to the potential homeowner. R: Not all the details have been figured out, but it would likely look like the FSS program where they fill out a participation agreement and, in that set, out goals for the family, they have to meet all of those goals which can be to find stable employment, have employment that allows them to pay X amount of money per month toward housing. Until goals are met, they would not have access to their account and the money would not be released. IT is a contract between the tenant and HACC. C: I think everybody in the county would like to be in a program where they could receive money to go toward potential purchase of a home, what is the process for selecting the people who would be included in this program and those who would not be. R: Would be limited to those we serve already, so participants we already have, and we have already done a survey and they have to be motivated, able to work, have to want to own a home. Found about 30 that were strongly ready to do. There were additional ready but not as strong a candidate based on criteria on ability to work. Limited to our participants from our waitlist. Q: IF HACC and the individual put money into the account. What is the deadline for being positioned to buy a home? Does this account go on forever? What happens to the account at some time in the future 10-15 years down the road if they are not ready to purchase a home? R: Likely build like FSS in that does have a deadline. In FSS you have to meet your goals in 5 years, or the portion HACC contributed goes back into the housing assistance pool for HACC to serve other families. The HACC portion is taken back. They will get to keep the portion they saved but not our portion. C: Okay thank you.

Commissioner Paul Savas: Q: What is the meaning of Moving to Work? What is the intention behind that wording? R: To move off assistance, to working stably and graduating off assistance. C: That is what I assumed. Years ago, when we increase the cost per month it also raised their portion per month or that is what I recollect. So, if it was $900 and we raised it to $1,100 to be in line with the current market that seemed counter-intuitive can you help me with that? R: I think you are talking about our payment standards. Honestly, to even find a unit you have to prove you can afford it so if our payment standards are not high enough that they could afford a unit they would not be able to find a unit. You have to increase your payment standard with market to make it. The payment standard portion allows us to keep the tenant portion as low as possible (max at move in is 40% of their income but we like to keep it closer to 30% so they have funds for groceries and medical bills. You have to keep increasing payment standards and luckily for us we were successful in conducting a market analysis and get additional matching funding from HUD each time we have increased our payment standards. That is not always the case, often payment standards fall behind market by 10% or more. Increasing payment standards allows clients to find housing where they need to find it and get their foot in the door and keeps their portion of the rent down. C/Q: I thought it was counterintuitive and a burden, but you have clarified that here. I was also told that extra income from federal sources were leveraged for building more units and as a revenue source for HACC. Our motivation was to help individuals and really to help the financial health of HACC to fund more housing. Is that correct? R: You're talking about the project-based voucher rent assistance amounts, those payment standards. Those help support the affordable housing projects by making them able to run and charge the tenant less money but able to cover the maintenance and administrative costs of those properties. C/Q: These people who are eligible for this program, they are receiving a voucher, correct? R: Correct Q: So, it was an opportunity to increase revenue for HACC program to increase housing. IF that is the case, are we undermining our ability to build extra units by freeing up this money? Is this totally directed toward the staff time savings of one year to three years or is this removing our revenue generation. R: The goal is to not take away from development pool, the goal is to save so much money in your administrative changes that you are using that savings to help those families and put money in those accounts. It is not touching the normal operations. Q: Are there any compromise in changing the inspections from one year to three years? What are those inspections, would they be compromising the health and welfare of the building or family living there? R: Individual landlords should be inspecting their properties. They should have a standard and they should be giving notices to their tenants if they are not keeping up their property, we are not the police of that. What we more go in for is to protect the tenant to ensure the landlord is keeping our standards which are a bare minimum housing quality standard. We are not requiring excessive upkeep but a bare minimum. By reducing our inspections, we are reducing our policing roles and putting that role back on the owner of the property. C: My concern is that some of our housing stock is tired, and we need to improve those living conditions. R: It would not reduce the public housing side of it but the section 8 side where it is private market landlords. C: Thank you.

Commissioner Tootie Smith, Chair: This is a good program and appreciate the effort that we are trying to help people buy homes. If I have had any angst about all the public housing, we are doing it is focused on one particular cohort where 10s if not 100's of millions of dollars is going to homelessness or people with disparities, but we are not looking at the other side of the equation on this. Also, I'm concerned, as everybody is, of the affordability of homes because prices have increased so much. So are the people in this program, can they go our and for instance partner with Habitat for Humanity and build their homes? I was talking to a neighboring jurisdiction with piece of land is considering bringing in Habitat for Humanity to build many houses on it then the investment would be 65%/35%. Habitat would retain 35% of the investment and buyer would have 65% and payments would be based on the 65% thus lowering their payment and making it affordable. If they sell after a period of time, they will retain their percent as would Habitat for Humanity. I know in this county, land is scarce to do that, but I think it is a program that is worthy, what are your thoughts/feelings on that. R: I definitely think that the application we set up is very bare bones. There is a lot of structure that needs to be done if we are selected and that is definitely something we can look into. I have written that down. That is excellent. C: You are not excluding anything. R: No that is why you do a very basic plan for HUD and then it allows you to build off of that from there. C: That is wonderful, very good.

Open public hearing for those in the room and then on zoom:

No public comments. Public hearing closed.

Further comment/questions from Commissioner Mark Shull: C: One of the comments from constituents on a program like this is they wonder if the program will save money. Q: Can you tell us that this program will actually save the taxpayer money over time? Providing rental assistance for decades is expensive, so will this program potential reduce the cost to the taxpayer for supportive housing? R: The short answer is no. The program is how to say it. It would be helping more families. In a perfect ideal world, you get all the way through your waitlist and no one else would need help and we could get rid of this program, but I don't see that happening. What this program does is do is the cost savings we have from our administrative cost savings makes this a no cost program. This is not costing taxpayers more, but we are using the savings to help more families. C: But those families at the end of 5 years are able to use this money, purchase a home and become self-sufficient, at that time there would be no more requirement for tax dollars to support that family. R: But we will pull another family from the waitlist. Q: But if someone asks, that is a positive thing I can tell. R: Yes, they are graduating families from assistance.

To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of Proud Ground, I write this letter to support the Housing Authority of Clackamas County's application to become a Moving to Work (MTW) agency. Proud Ground provides permanently affordable homeownership opportunities to working families mostly black, indigenous, people of color. We stand firmly with our partners that affordable housing is a key component to curing poverty and homelessness and that lack of funding and restrictive regulation are both barriers that public housing authorities (PHA's) face in increasing housing options for low-income families. The MTW program is an alternative that a small number of PHA's have used to encourage self-sufficiency, increase housing choice, and increase program cost-effectiveness. With Congress' decision to expand the MTW demonstration, Clackamas County is particularly well-suited to be an effective leader in the program.

The Housing Authority of Clackamas County has a long history of forging strong community partnerships, finding innovative ways to solve complex housing issues and respond to crisis, and creating and funding programs that help those in need within our community. The MTW program will help Clackamas County make its innovative programs more effective by reducing administrative burdens and allowing MTW funds to be used for local, non-traditional purposes.

In this endeavor, the Housing Authority of Clackamas County has our support. If you have any questions or need further information, please contact me using the information below.

Sincerely,

Diane Linn, Executive Director
