

OAK LODGE AND GLADSTONE COMMUNITY PROJECT

BRINGING A COMMUNITY CENTER, PARK AND LIBRARIES
TO THE OAK LODGE AND GLADSTONE COMMUNITIES

Clackamas County and the North Clackamas Parks & Recreation District (NCPRD), in partnership with the City of Gladstone, are bringing a new community center, park and two libraries to the Oak Lodge and Gladstone communities.

- The community center and park will be on the site of the NCPRD-owned Concord Property near the corner of Concord Street and McLoughlin Boulevard.
- The new Oak Lodge Library will be either on the Concord Property or at another location.
- The Gladstone Library will be on the site currently occupied by the Gladstone City Hall. (The current city hall will be moving to the new Gladstone Civic Center, scheduled to be completed in 2020.)

Planning for these community facilities began in early 2019 and all projects are tentatively scheduled to begin construction in 2022.

There will be opportunities throughout the project for area residents and the public to share thoughts and ideas about the future community center, park and libraries. Help shape the future of these new community services by attending regular task force meetings and public events, and by providing input by taking the online surveys.

COMMUNITY TASK FORCES

Two project task forces – one for the Oak Lodge Library and Concord Property, and one for the Gladstone Library – meet regularly to learn from and advise the project team, and develop recommendations for the Board of County Commissioners. Task force members are community residents with an interest or expertise in historic preservation, parks, sports, libraries or other relevant topics. The meetings are open to the public and include time for public comment.
