- Karen Jealous (PDX Cat Trapper) urged the County to offer trapping, spaying and neutering services for the growing feral cat population.

Chair Smith closed the public communication portion of this meeting.

COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR UPDATE

County Administrator Gary Schmidt shared praise for Water Environment Services' stormwater management from the state Department of Environmental Quality.

COMMISSIONER COMMUNICATION

Commissioner Shull encouraged citizens to read the voter pamphlet that will be mailed to them, lamented illegal drug use, reported on a dinner with the veteran-focused nonprofit Fort Kennedy and noted the importance of reporting code violations for the county to be aware of potential violations like recreational vehicles.

Commissioner Savas emphasized that Oregon was one of only two states that saw an increase in opioid-related deaths, according to a recent report. He also praised the Gladstone Library opening and thanked partners for help in response to people living in parked vehicles along Clackamas Road.

Commissioner Schrader commented on a new childcare police in the education service districts and criticized the upcoming ballot initiative Measure 118 for its effects on tax rates.

Commissioner West spoke on deflection and suggested the County should join potential lawsuits against the state over the funding formula for deflection centers.

Chair Smith criticized the upcoming ballot initiative Measure 118 and discouraged adoption of rank choice voting.

Chair Smith: If there is no further business this meeting is adjourned.
