COMMENTS:

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Definitions for Section I:

Mediation: "A process in which a mediator assists and facilitates two or more parties to a controversy in reaching a mutually acceptable resolution of the controversy. Includes all contacts between a mediator and any party or agent of a party, until such time as a resolution is agreed to by the parties or the mediation process is terminated." (ORS 36.110[5]). Mediation "includes case development and

Mediation Session: Process in which disputing parties come to the table and participate in mediation.

Facilitation: Please see the Section IV tabbed instructions for a definition of facilitation, how to count cases and when to open & close facilitation cases

Case Development: Occurs after the initial call (intake) becomes a "case," (see Instructions for Section I (2)) and includes communications between a case developer and party 1, and usually, but not always, between a case developer and party 2. The process includes contacting parties, assisting in resolution, and coordinating a mediation session.

Conciliation: Process in which disputing parties work with a third party to resolve differences, but do not meet together. Counts as a mediation case type and disposition (see III).

Agency: The community dispute resolution program, including paid and volunteer staff services.

Instructions for Section I:

Utilization of Mediation and Facilitation Services

1. Information and referral inquiries:

- A call for information in which no active dispute has been identified;
- The party calling may identify, or be involved in a dispute, but is currently seeking information only, and is not wanting or needing resolution assistance; or,
- A party is seeking assistance with a dispute, but the case is clearly not appropriate for the center and a referral is made to another resource.

2. New mediation cases opened: Assign a case number to each mediation. The unit of measurement in counting cases is the "dispute", which is an issue or constellation of issues brought forward by disputants for the purpose of seeking resolution assistance. A case number should be assigned when:

- In a community case, a party identifies a dispute and seeks assistance with resolution AND when it is not immediately clear that the dispute is inappropriate to the agency. The other party may not be identified because of the desire of the first party for anonymity.
- In a victim/offender case, a dispute has been identified between two parties and referred by the appropriate agency. In situations when an offender has impacted multiple victims, and the policy of the program is to engage in separate dialogues, such cases may be counted individually rather than collectively.
- In a parent/adolescent case, a dispute has been identified between two or more family members. This may also include foster and kinship families.
- School Peer mediation case may only be counted when either a CDRC staff member or CDRC volunteer mediator co-mediate

3. Mediation cases pending at beginning of the reporting period: These are mediation cases that were opened, but not closed, during the previous reporting period. If closed, these cases will end up with a disposition during the current reporting period.

4. Total mediation cases worked on: The total of both new mediation cases opened and mediation cases pending at the beginning of the reporting period.

5. New facilitation opened: Cases that were opened during the reporting period. Please see the Section IV tabbed instructions for a deeper discussion of how to count and when to open & close facilitation cases.

6. Facilitation cases pending at the beginning of reporting period: These are facilitation cases that were opened, but not closed, during the previous reporting period.

7. Total facilitation cases worked on during reporting period: The total of both new facilitation cases opened and facilitation cases pending at the beginning of the reporting period.

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Instructions for Section II:

Referral Sources for New Mediation and Facilitation Requests

Identify a primary referral source for each new case and provide the totals for each category.
Please remember to include referral sources for facilitation cases.

8 Self Referral, Word of mouth, Former client:

- Self referral: "I've heard about your services and would like to use them."
- Word of mouth: "Someone told me about your services."
- Former client: "I'm a previous client of yours."

9 District Attorney

10 Juvenile Justice

11 Adult Justice; community corrections, probation officer, etc.

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Definitions for Section III:

- A. Dispute Resolution Services (DRS) Provided: Includes conflict coaching and offender impact meetings.

- B. Mediation/Resolved: Party(ies) reached resolution, at some level, after either conflict coaching, conciliation, or participation in joint session (table mediation). A signed agreement may or may not have been produced. Parties may have reached satisfactory verbal agreements, or intend to continue collaborating to create an agreement.

- C. Mediation/Not Resolved: Party(ies) participated in either conciliation or joint session (table mediation) and were unable to reach resolution at any level.

- D. Pending: Cases receiving dispute resolution services, but not yet closed at the end of the reporting period.

- E. Inappropriate: The case was determined to be inappropriate for dispute resolution services either as a result of information gained during case development, or re-assessment of the case during mediation.

- F. Party Unavailable: One party not available by phone, mail, or personal visit (per agency policy) during case development.

- G. Party Declined Participation: One party (or parties) declined to participate during case development.

Instructions for Section III:

DRS & Mediation Case Type and Disposition

Enter each new and pending case in one category only. Numbered headings indicate case type, which may also be a separate program such as Youth and Family (Family: Parent/Teen) or Victim Offender (VORP)

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Definitions for Section IV:

Facilitations are separated into three types:

- 50 Community Dialogues: Facilitated conversations between or among community members regarding an array of issues. Conflict may or may not be present. The goal(s) of the dialogue may be to increase awareness and understanding rather than negotiating mutually satisfactory outcomes.
- 51 Public Policy: Complex cases involving multiple stakeholders and addressing issues of policy that impact the public. (Negotiated rulemaking, or intra or inter-governmental agreements around issues such as transportation, healthcare, land use, land development, or environment are examples.)
- 52 Organizational: Intra or inter-organizational facilitations. Conflict may be latent, emergent, manifest, or not present at all. The goal(s) and outcome(s) may be other than negotiated agreements. (Strategic planning sessions, reorganization, mission and vision work, teambuilding, or partnership agreements are examples.)

Instructions for Section IV:
Facilitation and Disposition

50 Community Dialogues: Count all facilitations that were closed during this reporting period.

51 Public Policy: Count all facilitations that were closed during this reporting period.

52 Organizational: Count all facilitations that were closed during this reporting period.

A. Facilitation Cases Completed: Count all facilitations that were closed during this reporting period.

How to Count and When to Close Facilitation Cases: Facilitations can be conducted in single or multiple sessions depending upon a number of variables. Following are some examples to help you determine how to count, and when to close a case:

1) One facilitation, one session in length:

a) A CDRC facilitates a public input meeting on transportation, which is scheduled on one evening. The case is closed when the meeting is over.

b) A CDRC facilitates monthly inter or intra-agency meetings. If each of these meetings has a different focus (e.g., discussing wrap around services for different clients each month), then each facilitation is counted as a separate case and is closed at the end of each meeting.

2) One facilitation, multiple sessions:

a) A CDRC facilitates a series of community input meetings on a single issue (e.g., transportation). Three public input meetings are held over three weeks. The facilitation is counted as one case with three sessions, and is closed when the last public input meeting is over.

b) A CDRC facilitates an inter- or intra-organizational meeting, which necessitates multiple sessions due to the complexity of the issue, or the presence of multiple issues. The facilitation is counted as one case with multiple sessions, and is closed at the end of the last meeting.

3) Multiple facilitations, each one completed in one session:

A CDRC facilitates three public input meetings on three different evenings on three distinctly separate issues (e.g. transportation, health care, homelessness). Each of these facilitations is counted as a separate case and each case is closed at the end of the meeting.

B. Pending Facilitations: Number of facilitations that were opened in the current reporting period, but have not yet been closed.

53 Subtotal- Formula protected please do not overwrite.

54 Total- Formula protected please do not overwrite.

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Instructions for Section V: Program Activities

- 55 All active volunteers – All active volunteers available to assist your program with mediation, board and advisory committees, program management, public relations, fundraising, training, etc.
- 56 Volunteers used this reporting period – Count all volunteers used this reporting period (including board members and clerical or administrative support volunteers).
- 57 Number of Volunteer Mediator/Facilitator Hours – Include all direct service hours provided by your volunteer mediators. If you are using in-kind contributions by volunteer mediators to meet your matching funds requirements, please note that you may use the current OOCDR approved prevailing rate. If your volunteer mediators meet the mediator trainer requirements and you utilize them as mediation trainers or coaches, these hours may also count toward in-kind matching funds contributions. If board members volunteer as mediators, coaches, or trainers, you may count these hours toward in-kind matching funds contributions. Otherwise, volunteer board of director or advisory committee members may not have their hours counted toward in-kind matching funds contributions “while serving in the capacity as members of the
- 58 Number of Other Volunteer Hours (Admin, Clerical, Committees, etc.) – Include all hours contributed by volunteers serving in administrative, clerical, training (for trainers who don’t meet UO Policy trainer criteria), or other program support capacities. If you are using in-kind volunteer contributions to meet your matching funds requirements, you may value your other volunteer hours at the current OOCDR approved prevailing rate. Please note the exceptions in UO Policy CDRP – §E, ¶6. related to board or advisory committee members.
- 59 Number of All Active Interns – All active interns available to assist your program with mediation, board and advisory committees, program management, public relations, fundraising, training, etc.
- 60 Number of Interns Used During This Reporting Period – Count all interns used this reporting period (including board members and clerical or administrative interns).
- 61 Number of Intern Mediation Hours – Include all direct service hours provided by your intern mediators.
- 62 Number of Other Intern Hours (Admin, Clerical, Committees, etc.) - Include all hours contributed by interns serving in administrative, clerical, training, or other program support capacities.
- 63 Number of people served – Include all who participated in intake and case development or were at the mediation table or part of or bound by the mediated agreement. Participants in facilitations should also be included. Calculate and enter a figure into the category ONLY when closing a case so as not to have a double counting problem next reporting period.
- 64 Press releases published during reporting period
- 65 Outreach activities – Include all contacts (face-to-face or direct media events such as TV or radio interviews) made to build awareness of your program. Examples include outreach and education to current or potential referral sources (refer to Section II), presentations to community groups, service organizations, or representation in community collaborations and/or related activities. Please list activities and describe collaborations.
- 66 Number of participants in outreach activities

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Instructions for Section VI:

Mediator Training Activities

- 67 Basic mediation training programs – Include any basic mediation training program of at least thirty (30) hours meeting UO Policy CDRP – §Q, ¶2(a). criteria.
- 68 Trainees completing basic mediation training
- 69 Continuing education programs – Record the number of in-service/continuing education/training programs for your volunteers (mediators as well as others), including all programs conducted on and off-site.
- 70 Mediators and other volunteers attending continuing education programs, including all programs conducted on and off-site.
- 71 Specialized training – Include all other (beyond basic) specialized training provided to your volunteers, including all trainings conducted on and off-site. (For example VOM, school, workplace, community dialogues, facilitation, or other specialized, intermediate or advanced skill or practice area trainings.)
- 72 Mediators attending specialized trainings, including all trainings conducted on and off-site.
- 73 Community education programs in conflict resolution – Include all presentations, workshops, and seminars for the public that include skill building activities (such as conflict resolution skills; effective communication skills, etc.) Exclude trainings focused on youth (these will be reflected in line #71). Note that these programs are a critical component of your grant requirement to provide “citizen education in conflict resolution skills to assist citizens in resolving their own disputes peacefully” per UO Policy CDRP – §C, ¶2.
- 74 Number of participants in community education programs
- 75 Youth mediation/conflict management education programs – Include all conflict resolution trainings, workshops, and other conflict resolution skill building activities for youth. (For example: Peer mediation trainings. parent-teen mediation trainings for youth co-mediators. classes in juvenile detention centers. etc.)
- 76 Number of participants in youth related programs

The Oregon Office for Community Dispute Resolution Program
Service Report Instructions

Instructions for Section VII:

Evaluation

Program Evaluation

- 77 If you have done any type of program evaluation during this reporting period, please let us hear about it; send information or a copy. (For example, to measure the effectiveness of your mediation program, or pilot projects.)

Executive Director Annual Evaluation

- 78 Please verify whether or not an annual Executive Director performance evaluation was conducted during this reporting period, per UO Policy CDRP – §N, ¶3.

Board of Directors Annual Evaluation

- 79 Please verify whether or not an annual Board of Directors performance evaluation was conducted this reporting period, per UO Policy CDRP – §N, ¶3.

Community Needs Assessment

- 80 Please provide any community needs assessments that have been conducted this reporting period, and submit a copy of any survey instruments used, as well as findings.

Mediation Pending Instructions

There are two lines on the Service Report that are both titled "Pending" and this creates a lot of confusion. The key to understanding the difference of "Pending" in Section I and "Pending" in Section III and how they are related is to focus on Section III first, and then move on to Section I.

The main aspect to note is that the "Pending" cases in Section III of a reporting period become the "Pending" cases in Section I of the following reporting period.
